A sloper pattern (home sewing) or block pattern (industrial production) is a custom-fitted, basic pattern from which patterns for many different styles can be developed. The process of changing the size of a finished pattern is called grading.. Several companies, like Butterick and Simplicity, specialize in selling pre-graded patterns directly to consumers who will sew the patterns at home.

The simplest of the encryption modes is the Electronic Codebook (ECB) mode (named after conventional physical codebooks).The message is divided into blocks, and each block is encrypted separately. The disadvantage of this method is a lack of diffusion.Because ECB encrypts identical plaintext blocks into identical ciphertext blocks, it does not hide data patterns well.
